Africa Mine presents a tantalizing programme of modern, classic and art-house African films. From popular Nollywood classics, to the Oscar winning Tsotsi. From arthouse epics to cutting edge documentaries, this innovative season has something for everyone with an interest in Africa and World Cinema. The Tuesday evening screenings will include Q&A sessions, discussions and opportunities to meet film-makers, media professionals and experts from Africa and the diaspora. Each screening will include 'Amokasa' a short film by young Africans in London.
